(B) CA AMENDMENTS

Background

5. Arising from the implementation of the CA 2016¹, the Exchange undertook a review of the Main LR to ensure that the provisions are aligned with the CA 2016 and shareholders' interests continue to be safeguarded.

¹ Pursuant to the Federal Government Gazette dated 26 January 2017, the CA 2016 came into effect on 31 January 2017 (with the exception of section 241 and Division 8, Part III which deal with the provisions relating to the registration of company secretaries with the Registrar and corporate rescue mechanisms).

 - (2) CG AMENDMENTS;
 - (3) MOG AMENDMENTS;
 - (4) SPAC AMENDMENTS; AND

6. At the same time, the Exchange also took the opportunity to enhance and simplify the drafting of various requirements under the Main LR, in the areas of review, to ensure that the Main LR remains clear, relevant and practical, for ease of compliance by listed issuers.

Objectives of CA Amendments

7. The CA Amendments, among others, seek to achieve the following objectives:

- 8.1 Streamlining the framework for bonus issue of securities and subdivision of shares given that bonus issue can now be undertaken without capitalisation and therefore, is akin to a subdivision. The enhancements are as follows:

Bonus issue

- (a) allowing bonus issue to be undertaken with or without increasing the issued share capital of the listed issuer;
- (b) removing the requirement for appointment of a Principal Adviser for a straightforward bonus issue of equity securities which is not conditional upon other corporate proposal(s);

 - (i) removing the requirement for reserves to be unimpaired by losses on a consolidated basis; and

- (h) extending the requirements applicable to a bonus issue as set out in Chapter 6 of the Main LR, to a subdivision, with the necessary modifications; and

Bonus issue and subdivision of shares

- (i) removing the prohibition for a Cash Company² or PN17 Issuer³ from undertaking a bonus issue without capitalisation or subdivision of shares on a standalone basis which is not part of a regularisation plan.

² Cash Company means a listed issuer whose assets on a consolidated basis, consist of 70% or more of cash or short term investments, or a combination of both as set out in paragraph 8.03 of the Main LR.

³ PN17 Issuer means a financially distressed listed issuer classified under Practice Note 17 of the Main LR.

 - (ii) requiring details of the transfer of treasury shares for the preceding 12 months such as the date and purpose as well as the transfer price and basis for the price.

Communication with Securities Holders via Electronic Means

(C) CG AMENDMENTS

Background

9. The Malaysian Code on Corporate Governance (“MCCG”) was issued by the SC on 26 April 2017 and took effect immediately. Listed issuers are required to report their application of the corporate governance practices pursuant to the MCCG in annual reports with effect from financial year ending on or after 31 December 2017.
10. Consequent to the MCCG, the Exchange made the CG Amendments to reflect the new corporate governance (“CG”) disclosure approaches and requirements set out in the MCCG. Amendments were also made to enhance disclosure of directors’ remuneration in annual reports and the functions of the audit committee in relation to its oversight over the internal audit function of a listed issuer.

⁴ Section 75(2) of the CA 2016 provides that shareholder approval is not required for pro rata allotment, bonus issue, allotment to promoters or issuance of shares as acquisition consideration.

In this regard, a listed issuer (other than a real estate investment trust, closed end fund and business trust) must -
- (a) strictly comply with the prescribed format of the CG Report, with no exception whatsoever; and
 - (b) announce the completed CG Report in PDF format to the Exchange together with the announcement of the annual report.

(D) MOG & SPAC AMENDMENTS

Background

14. On 19 January 2017, the SC introduced a new listing framework for MOG corporations which plan to seek listing on the Main Market. The new framework covers listings of MOG corporations either directly through initial public offering, indirectly through acquisition by listed issuers, or qualifying acquisition by SPACs. The key amendments introducing such new framework were primarily reflected in the SC's Equity Guidelines and Prospectus Guidelines.
15. In view of the above and the unique characteristics of the MOG industry which is highly technical in nature, the Exchange amended the Main LR mainly in terms of enhancements to the post-listing obligations of MOG listed issuers and SPACs to take into consideration the enhanced admission requirements and disclosure requirements introduced under the SC's Equity Guidelines and Prospectus Guidelines.

Objectives of the MOG & SPAC Amendments

16. The MOG & SPAC Amendments are aimed at -
- (a) enhancing the regulatory framework governing the MOG listed issuers and SPACs to improve their quality and investability;
 - (b) strengthening investor protection through enhanced disclosures and improved reliability of information disclosed post-listing by MOG listed issuers and SPACs; and

- (a) in relation to minerals, the Proved Reserves or Probable Reserves as defined in the MOG reporting standards and MOG valuation standards ("Acceptable Reporting Standard") adopted by an MOG listed issuer; and

Key SPAC Amendments

18. In addition to the MOG Amendments above, the Exchange has also made the following enhancements to the disclosure obligations of SPACs, consequential to SC's revised Equity Guidelines for SPACs:
- (a) requiring enhanced disclosure on how a SPAC has utilised its initial public offering proceeds ("IPO Proceeds"), compared with the proposed utilisation disclosed in its listing prospectus, in its half-yearly and annual reports;
 - (b) enhancing the disclosures in a circular of a SPAC undertaking a qualifying acquisition;
 - (c) requiring the disclosure of utilisation of IPO Proceeds in the circular for a qualifying acquisition to be reviewed and verified by an external auditor; and

- (a) enhancing the transparency of derivatives and gains/losses arising from fair value changes of financial liabilities in the notes to quarterly reports; and
 - (b) simplifying listed issuers' compliance obligations by ensuring that only relevant disclosure requirements are prescribed in the Main LR.

Key Codification of Financial Disclosures

22. The key Codification of Financial Disclosures in the Main LR entails the following disclosures to be made in the notes to quarterly reports:
- (a) information on derivatives entered into by a listed issuer such as its value and maturity analysis, rationale and the expected benefits for entering into a new type of derivative, as well as discussion on the risks associated with the derivatives and policies to mitigate such risks, if there is a change in such information previously disclosed; and
 - (b) amount of gains/losses arising from fair value changes of a listed issuer's financial liabilities.

Transitional arrangements for bonus issue and issuance of annual report in electronic format

28. In order to accord some flexibility to listed issuers undertaking bonus issue and to ensure smooth transition of the requirements pertaining to issuance of documents via electronic means, the Exchange has put in place transitional arrangements to enable listed issuers to take all necessary steps to comply with the relevant CA Amendments.
29. Transitional arrangements for bonus issue
- 29.1 Pursuant to section 618 of the CA 2016, any amount standing to the credit of a listed issuer's share premium account and capital redemption reserve shall automatically become part of the listed issuer's share capital from 31 January 2017 onwards in view of the no par value regime. However, the Exchange is cognisant that for a period of 2 years from 31 January 2017 ("transitional period"), companies are permitted to use the amount in the share premium account or capital redemption reserve to, among others, issue bonus shares.
- 29.2 At the same time, the Exchange is also mindful that there are some listed issuers which may be unable to undertake bonus issue during the transitional period as they cannot comply with the Pricing Condition.
- 29.3 Given that the CA 2016 permits all companies to issue bonus shares out of their share premium account or capital redemption reserves without any restrictions during the transitional period, the Exchange provides listed issuers with the option of undertaking bonus issue by complying with either the enhanced framework or previous regime for bonus issue during the transitional period in the manner as set out below:

No.	Enhanced bonus issue framework (no par value regime)	Bonus issue under the previous framework (the par value regime)
(a)	No limit to the type of bonus issue – it is applicable for bonus issue by way of capitalisation (from retained profits or reserves) or without increasing the share capital.	Limited to a bonus issue by way of capitalisation from the share premium account or capital redemption reserves of a listed issuer.
(b)	Pricing Condition applies.	Pricing Condition is not applicable.

No.	Enhanced bonus issue framework (no par value regime)	Bonus issue under the previous framework (the par value regime)
(c)	For a bonus issue by way of capitalisation: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ there is no minimum amount required to be capitalised; 	The amount to be capitalised must be based on the par value per share of the listed issuer before 31 January 2017.
(d)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ there is no requirement for reserves to be unimpaired by losses; and ▪ reserves must be sufficient to cover the capitalisation issue. 	Reserves for capitalisation must be – <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ unimpaired by losses; and ▪ adequate to cover the entire bonus issue.

29.4 The transitional arrangement for bonus issue above is to facilitate listed issuers which have amounts outstanding in their share premium accounts or capital redemption reserves prior to 31 January 2017, to apply section 618 of the CA 2016 by undertaking a bonus issue during the transitional period without the need to comply with the Pricing Condition, as long as they comply with the existing framework under the par value regime. After the expiry of the transitional period (i.e. after 31 January 2019), listed issuers undertaking bonus issue must comply with the requirements under the enhanced framework.

30. Issuance of annual report in electronic format

30.1 Notwithstanding the deletion of the requirement on issuance of annual report in electronic format such as CD-ROM and thumb-drive, a listed issuer may continue to send its annual report to securities holders in electronic format subject to compliance with paragraph 30.2 below, until its constitution is amended to allow issuance of documents via electronic means.

30.2 In this regard, a listed issuer may issue its annual report in electronic format to its securities holders provided that it –

- (a) gives a printed copy of its annual report to its shareholder upon the shareholder's request, whether verbal or written;
